

SPORTS DAY : THE EVENTS

DOUGLAS BADER FOOTBALL

The Rules of Douglas Bader Football are simple - in tribute to the greatest hero of World War 1, you must play football without bending your legs.

1. All members of each house must play.
2. Drinks and smokes are allowed on the playing field, and you can ignore the ball if you like.
3. Absolutely no bending of the knee.
4. If, after four minutes, no-one has scored, the game will be decided by Douglas Bader penalties.

THE GREAT BELM-OFF

Combatants must face each other, and belm with no less than 80% of their face. A simple tongue in the lip (25%) will not suffice. The winner of the Belm Off is he or she who maintains their belm at or above 80% for longest, without chuckling or looking a bit pleased. There are three Belm-Off events;

1. 1-on-1 belm-off - win 3 points for your house.
2. 4-Point House Belm - nominees from each house compete simultaneously.
3. The Exciting All-Play Last Belm Standing Event!

POOMO WRESTLING

Players engage over the fabled white dog poo of yore. After a parp from the rules trumpet, wrestling commences.

The first person to come into bodily contact with the chalky egg is deemed to be absolutely covered in poo, and has lost.

Because white dog poos are like honest politicians (the last example of both being Margaret Thatcher THANK YOU LADIES AND GENTLEMEN), we will be using a Meringue Nest.

The final will be played over a white dog poo with a Spangle in it, that has left the toilet seat up.

THE SHOE PUTT

The Shoe-Putt is the ultimate test of isolated knee strength. With just a slight error in technique, knee-caps can fly off like Smarties Lids.

From the sitting position, Putters must straighten their knee as though gripped by the wildest of involuntary spasms. It is good practice to accompany this flex with a wild, uncomely grunt.

This will fling their loosened shoe in a graceful arc.

Discretionary points will be awarded for distance travelled, and amusing landing places. (If it lands on another person's foot as they tuck into a sandwich, for example, you instantly win this game).

STEPTOE FACE, PLEASE

The rules of Steptoe Face, Please are simple. Should anyone approach you, and politely request "Steptoe Face, Please", then you are obliged to immediately furnish him or her with a Steptoe Face. The kind of Steptoe Face required is Steptoe with loofer, in the bath.

Failing to provide a Steptoe Face upon request will cost your house 1 point.

If the request does not come with a "Please", and you still provide the Steptoe Face, the requester may shout MANNERS!! into your face, costing your house one point.

SPEEDNOB ELIMINATION

Three "members" from each house have a label attached to their backs, and shoulder the awesome responsibility not to have a cock drawn on their back.

Ten minutes after play commences, everyone is allowed to draw cocks on the labels.

The last house to have an uncocked back wins the Speednob Elimination event, scoring 5 points for their house.
